Nursing Courses

Local Hospitals Opening Their Doors To SJ State College Trained Women

Latest subject to be added to the college curriculum is a nursing class designed to qualify women as nurses in local hospitals, according to Dean Jay Elder.

The course is an emergency measure and will be given next quarter so as to prepare co-eds for the appointments to be made July 1.

FOR THE DURATION

The standard nursing schools require from four to five years of practical training before the student may be registered as an R. N. graduate nurse. For the duration of the war, however, this four year program will not meet the needs of the immediate problem.

With the proposed program in various colleges and universities in full swing, the present shortage may be filled by trained women, says Dean Elder.

PAY SCALE

Pay will be in line with other established wage scales and the hospital will furnish board and transportation to the place of residence.

Women interested in enrolling in this nursing class should sign up immediately in the office of the Dean of the Lower Division. The junior college department will help to arrange a program for the spring quarter in order to prepare enrollees for immediate service in the field.

New Courses

Canteen Cookery And Nutrition For Defense Taught Next Quarter

Emergency feeding both in and out of doors is just one of the things students taking the new course, Canteen Cookery, H. E. T7, being offered next quarter, will learn.

Canteen Cookery and Nutrition for defense are the two new courses being offered students by the Home Economics department in co-operation with national defense and Red Cross needs.

Menu planning, food preparation and service, housekeeping and cost accounting in relation to emergency feeding, will be taught by Miss Maude Ash of the Home Economics department in the Canteen Cookery course Monday and Wednesday from 10 to 12 in the Home Economics building.

Miss Helen Mignon, professor of dietetics and nutrition, will teach Nutrition for defense which will take up the study of food essentials for health, and foods and costs in relation to individual tastes and native diets.

Students wishing to take one or both of these courses may register this week and next in the Home Economics office.

First Half Of Carnegie Tests Given Today; Rooms, Seat Assignments Posted

Beginning this afternoon at 1 o'clock senior students with 135 or more credited units will take the first half of the Carnegie tests; the remaining half will be taken tomorrow afternoon. Because of the importance of the tests the door will be locked at 1:05 o'clock and students arriving after that time will not be admitted. Rooms will be opened at 12:30 p.m.

ROOMS

Three rooms have been chosen in which to give the tests. They are rooms 112 and 210 in the Science building, the Little Theater and Morris Dailey auditorium. Students should be equipped with two soft lead pencils and an ink-filled pen. At the main entrance near the Information office a list has been posted with names of students and the rooms and seats in which they should sit.

STUDY SAMPLE TESTS

Personnel office officials stated recently that these tests would aid a student in gaining entrance to a graduate school, providing the grade is high enough. Students may receive the results of the tests from the Carnegie foundation. Students are urged to look at the sample tests that were given them at the class meeting two weeks ago.

ACCEPTED OR DENIED

After the tests are completed tomorrow afternoon they will be sent to the headquarters of the Carnegie foundation where they will be checked. Officials from the Association of Colleges and Universities will then evaluate the grades and will then accept or turn down San Jose State college as a member.

Debating

SPARTAN FORENSIC SQUAD MEMBERS MEET STANFORD AND WASHINGTON

Spartan forensic squad members will hold a three-way meet with the University of Washington men's discussion group and the Stanford debate squad Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Student Union, Debate Manager Henry Leland announced yesterday.

The event will take the form of a general symposium discussion with two Washington speakers formally opening the topic with short speeches. Subject for the evening is "What Steps Must the United States Take Now to Cushion Post-War Depression?"

WESTERN TOUR

The Washington delegation will be headed by Curtis Aller, debate manager. The Men's Discussion squad is at present making a tour of West Coast colleges debating with various squads.

Washington debate coach, Professor A. L. Franzke, will act as faculty moderator for the discussion.

The Stanford team will be led by Jim Frolik, Stanford debate manager.

SPARTAN TEAM

Spartan debaters on the program include Wesley Young, Bette Jane Toland, Francis Stoffels, Marilynne Skinner, Liberata Rusigno, Joanna Overman, Henry Leland, Rex Gardiner, Richard Flower, Kenneth Fisner and Florence Booth.

The meeting is the last one scheduled for the quarter.

Chapel Services Held This Noon In Little Theater

Chapel services will be held in the Little Theater this noon from 12:10 to 12:30 o'clock and will feature readings by Margaret Kennedy and Tom Taylor entitled "The Hand of God." Highlight of the chapel services will be a meditation period during which the brass quartet will render several Bach chorales.

"Decorations will be arranged to emphasize simplicity and beauty, essential qualities of the spiritual life," Marie Hayes, program arranger, declares.

"Several candelabras placed appropriately on the sides of the stage, with an arrangement of flowers in the background will comprise the stage setting," she states.

Chapel services have not been scheduled for final week, but will be held at the regular period during next quarter. A new arrangement for presentation of chapel programs will be innovated whereby different campus organizations will manage the program every week," she states.

"This will give a larger portion of the student body opportunity to participate in the programs and to make it possible for them to be harmonious with varying student taste.

Social Affairs

Barnyard Theme Carried Out For 'Turnabout' Dance Tomorrow Night

Bales of hay, wheelbarrows, rakes, forks and all types of farm equipment will be used for decorations at the "Turnabout" dance in the Men's gym tomorrow night.

The barnyard atmosphere will be used to typify the Sadie Hawkins Day theme which will be featured for the dance. Women students are to act as escorts for the evening, inviting their partners, calling for them, and conducting them to the dance as is the custom in the communities where Sadie Hawkins Day is recognized.

REFRESHMENTS

Cider will be sold for refreshments if it is possible to get it, announces Beverly Byrnes, chairman of the Social Affairs committee.

Jeans and gingham will be the appropriate dress for the affair, which will be the last student body dance of the quarter.

Music by Maxine Brose and her six-piece all-girl swing orchestra will be featured. A vocalist will perform with the band also.

FREE ADMISSION

Dancing will be from 9 to 12 o'clock with admission free to student body members. Non-members and outsiders accompanied by a student will be charged 40 cents. No stags will be admitted.

Patrons for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Erlendson and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Otterstein.

Members of the Social Affairs committee will decorate the gym tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. On the committee this quarter are Chairman Byrnes, Doris Keene, Bee Laurence, Christine Mansfield, Janice Isom, Marty Taylor, Hank Imsen, Ken Stephens, Don Campbell, Weber Lund, Marg Long, Mary Virginia Bristow, Gerry Monnot and Yvonne Bigley.

Radio Operators Needed For Navy

More than 5000 men between the ages of 17 and 50 are needed by the United States Navy to man a new type of secret aircraft locator, a bulletin from naval headquarters stated in a recent issue.

The locator has the distinct advantage of locating enemy aircraft and water surface craft at great distances.

Applicants selected by the Navy to use the instrument will be rated as second class radiomen and given a salary of $72 per month, plus allowances. Captain J. W. Gates, public relations officer, states that advancement to chief radioman, paying $99 a month, is rapid.

Applicants to the positions must be in good physical condition and at least high school graduates. They must also hold or have held either an A or B class license in radio operation.

School Field Trips Curtailed By War

Latest developments from military headquarters indicate that field trips for science, education, art and music classes will have to be curtailed or abandoned entirely for the duration.

Department heads were informed recently by transportation company directors that the government has placed a restricting order on bus transportation in an effort to conserve all possible gasoline and rubber supplies.

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE, LADIES

Hardly a day passes now but what we read or hear of new tales of heroism and sacrifice at the front. Win, lose or draw our boys will furnish the generations to come with innumerable stories of gallantry in action. But what of those in civilian life? What is to be their lot in this conflict?

Many are engaged in defense industries while others have enlisted in reserve service schools. Still others have volunteered as home defense guards.

But what of the women? What are they doing to help? They are playing their part, too, in national defense, but some have complained of the smallness of their tasks. Of necessity a woman's work is limited to a few fields.

Nursing has issued a call, and innumerable women have responded, eager to make this profession their part in the war. But to become a qualified R. N. nurse takes from four to five years.

With the continued expansion of our military forces more nurses are needed than are normally required for the civilian population. Therefore, the service has been enlisting nurses and taking them from hospitals. Consequently, a serious shortage is becoming apparent. If, as is the case, it takes a long period to become an expert in the field, then, of necessity, the next few years will find this country sadly lacking in nurses.

The supply will not even begin to meet the demand. Both the armed forces and the civilian population are bound to suffer. Then, too, there is the ever present possibility of an attack on the United States proper; in that case the demand would be increased tenfold.

As a war measure, a plan has been adopted to remedy the situation. College women are being trained to act as assistant nurses in hospitals and private homes. In case of emergency they will be prepared to accept greater responsibilities.

With the first appointments being made next July, women are being sought to fill a class for the coming spring quarter.

Here, it seems, is the opportunity so many women have been clamoring for. To give material aid and in a tangible way is what they asked. This program fills the bill completely.

Now is your chance, ladies, to compete with men on an even basis in the war. Take advantage of this splendid opening.

• FOR SERVICE CONTRIBUTIONS

Dear Editor:

Private George Jorgensen, a former student councilman now in the ski troops on Mt. Rainier, sent me four issues of the Spartan Daily. As has been said in your column for service contributions, they were like letters from home.

I would certainly appreciate your placing me on your mailing list. I still feel closely associated with San Jose State since I am to graduate from there in June. Having been on active duty in the Navy since March, 1941, the college has accepted my naval service to satisfy the remaining units I needed for graduation. Perhaps other students in military service can use their service to the same advantage.

My assignment since October has been the executive officer on a minesweeper. There is very little we are allowed to tell about our work, but from chasing down unidentified freighters to sweeping for protection from foreign men-of-war, it never lacks for interest.

It is gratifying to read of the State students who are joining our side of the service. Gratifying because they are making available to their country their college training and intelligence where it will be needed first.

Sincerely,
— Leonard Morton,

THRUST and PARRY

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Am I disappointed! With a ratio of two co-eds to every male student, with the Turnabout dance only two days away, I haven't been asked. Here I am, an eligible sophomore without one invitation. With eligible men at a premium, gals, this is really an opportunity to get off the dime. Take a little initiative, co-eds. If the fellow refuses, do what we do, ask another. It's surprising what fun a second-rate date may be.

But maybe I'm just the guy a

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE
President San Jose State College

Be sure to visit the exhibit of Oriental ceramics this in the Art building. It is a loan exhibit from the DeYoung museum in San Francisco, something the like of which you not see here for a long time. Get one of the catalogues, study it. There is a world of interest and beauty in ceramics. This may be your opportunity to learn something about it.

I attended the concert which the orchestra gave for children last Saturday. I usually have so much trouble trying to understand music of any kind that I thought perhaps I belonged there. Miss Williams gave a little talk before each of the numbers and told us what to notice. I found myself understanding much more with that kind of a start. It might be a good idea for more of us to take in the children's concert.

It was a cold, blustery, rainy day, but a good many children were on hand. A number of young mothers brought their children. It was interesting to me to note how many people are anxious to have their children hear some really good music. Several teachers were there with little groups. It gave one a warm feeling of appreciation to see grown folks take the time and make the effort to give the children a chance.

of the sporting section of a Francisco paper Sunday was a thing of a milestone for us. It showed the finish of one of the door sprints, and there, big as life, was San Jose State college competing with California, and next man wore the shield of Southern California. Never in our history has a San Jose finished in front of USC. I understand we did some other work that evening. Congratulations to the track team and Winter.

We seem to be getting pretty well in our athletics despite the terrific drain of war. We still have some competitors, all of them anxious to make their records before we have to report. It is the policy of the country to have students remain in college as long as possible, and to report on the ceramics this from the DeYoung e of which you the catalogues beauty in comr nothing about it.

Victory-starved Coach Walter Peterson's baseball team heads for the Moraga valley this afternoon determined to bring back the glory of the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's.

Last year the Spartans handily defeated the Moragans, but this year it seems that it will take a miracle and a prayer to pull them through.

SHORT PITCHERS
With Jack Gottschang and Bill Peterson the only pitchers on the team and a CCAA conference doubleheader slated for Saturday last year's champs, Fresno State, the Spartan mentor is wondering what he is going to use for chucks.

The Fresno doubleheader was originally scheduled for last Saturday but rain caused the postponement of the contests until today.

PROBABLE STARTERS
San Jose's probable starting lineup:
Bain, center field.
Colombo, third base.
Bianco, catcher.
Santag, first base.
Lamarus, second base.
Bayer, short stop.
Jones or MacDowell, right field.
Rhyne, pitcher.

Olson And Hines Enter National Wrestling Tourney

Because of transportation difficulties only two Spartan wrestlers will enter the National Collegiate tournament at Lansing, Michigan, March 27 and 28.

Captain Dave Hines and Ivan Olson, both Pacific coast intercollegiate titleholders last year, will make the journey by bus, leaving this week-end.

Olson will grapple at 128 and Hines at 155. Hines has been wrestling at 165 all season but will make the lower weight for the national tourney.

Olson was a doubtful starter yesterday when he was operated by the doctor to make the trip. He suffered a rib injury in the Far Western tourney two weeks ago and was kept out of the last three meets.

Both men have an even chance to place high among the college wrestlers from across the nation, according to Coach Sam Della Torre.

Spartan Mermen Battle California Tomorrow Night

Coach Charley Walker will send the varsity swimming team against California tomorrow evening in the local pool at 8 o'clock. This will be the last meet for Coach Walker for some time as he is leaving the first of the month for Norfolk, Virginia, where he will be training for the Navy's training program.

This also finishes the dual meet season for the Spartans with only the CCAA conference tourney at San Diego Saturday, May 9.

Last year the State mermen pulled a surprise upset when they defeated the Bear team 39-36. The relay team won by a narrow margin in the final event, earning seven points that gave the Spartans victory.

This year the Bears are reportedly strong in the backstroke, freestyle and diving. Bill Sheeran will give Marty Taylor a run for his money over the 150 yard freestyle.

Bob Hill, Ted McCarthy, and Dick Lippi and Sheeran are the favorites.

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1942

WASHINGTON STATE COUGARS WILL BE SPARTANS' TOP OPPOSITION IN P.C.I. BOXING BOUTS, SAYS COACH PORTAL

By BILL MORROW

Reporting his team in "the very best physical and mental condition," Coach DeWitt Portal will put his ambidextrous San Jose varsity boxers through their final training tonight in preparation for tomorrow night's coast championship tournament opening at Sacramento.

San Jose ranks among the best of the eleven coast teams entered in the P. C. I. by virtue of their impressive season record, and Portal considers the delegation from Washington State as the most formidable barrier for the Spartan punchers to surmount.

WSC'S BEST
Merle Vannoy, 120-pounder; Byron Hostetter, 127-pounder; and Bruce Hostetter, 135-pounder, are seeded as Washington State's best men. In view of this, Portal will be out gunning for the Cougars, for his team also is at its best in these three weights. Portal's Bob Webber, Dick Miyagawa, and Charlie Townsend represent his top talent, and victories for either team in these divisions would be a big step towards the team championship that both squads are after.

San Jose students will be admitted to the P. C. I. boxing tournament tomorrow and Saturday nights for 25c, on presentation of their student body cards.

Webber won his title on a close decision from Vannoy last year, and Miyagawa lost his final to Byron Hostetter in a battle so close that the judges later chose Miyagawa for the trip east to the nationals. Bruce Hostetter, Byron's twin, is another Cougar veteran, and will be the top contender for the lightweight title that Spartan Charlie Townsend would like to garner.

GOOD WELTERWEIGHTS
Portal names Felice of Gonzaga and Lionel Cade of USF as the toughest in the welterweight class. San Jose's Ken Sheets dropped his last bout from Cade, but may surprise at Sacramento.

The 155-pound class is wide open, says Portal, and the only 165-pounders of any proven ability on the coast so far are Milt Cunha of California and Chace Anderson of Idaho.

In the light-heavyweight class, Washington State has a real threat in Bill Spiegelberg, a veteran of last year's tournament, while Oregon State has Jim McFadden, a consistent winner this year. Woody Gibson carries the San Jose colors here.

"SHOTPUT" PUNCH
Thorburn of California is the main heavyweight contender, but Portal expects his undefeated Frank Minini to give a good account of himself. Minini's "shotput" punch, comparable to Lou Nova's cosmic and Ceferino Garcia's bolo blows, is something to watch for, says the San Jose mentor.

Minini's right, which carries enough power to have pushed the 16-pound shot 49 feet (the best on the coast this season), is thrown from his shoulder in much the same manner as when he is engaged in heaving the iron sphere, and has brought him three knock-out wins in his last four bouts.

The 11 teams entered in the P. C. I. are Stanford, UCLA, Cal Aggies, California, USF, Idaho, Oregon State, Washington State, Gonzaga, San Jose State, and Fresno State college.

SPARTAN TENNIS TEAM BATTLES TIGERS TODAY

Seeking their third win in as many starts, the Spartan racquet wielders will battle the College of Pacific tennis team on local courts north of the Stadium this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Tuesday afternoon in Santa Clara the Spartans eked out their second conference win by a 5-4 count over the Bronchos. This means that the Spartan and Broncho teams will be battling it out for the Northern California Intercollegiate title. They meet again on the local courts next quarter.

CAL. JAVIES
Saturday afternoon the Spartans will face the California university junior varsity on the Berkeley courts at 2 o'clock.

The Tiger match this afternoon was originally scheduled for Saturday but bad weather caused postponement.

SAME LINEUP
For the Spartans it will be Ronald Edwards, Dink Clark, Don McKenzie, Vic Morton, Eddie LaFrank and John Nicholson in the singles in that order. In the doubles Edwards will team with McKenzie, Clark with Morton, and LaFrank with Nicholson.

COACH WINTER ENTERS SEVEN MEN IN ANNUAL LONG BEACH RELAYS THIS SATURDAY; SMITH IN THREE EVENTS

By NIELS NIELSEN

Seven men will trek to Southern California for the Long Beach Relays to be held on Stephens Field Saturday, head track coach Bud Winter announced yesterday.

Although the group is small, San Jose will enter seven events including the four-man medley relay and, judging from past performances, stands an excellent chance of placing in four of them.

The major burden rests upon the shoulders of Bill Smith, who will compete in the open hundred yard dash, the high jump and the broad jump. After losing to Hal Davis by only four inches in the 50 yard dash in the indoor meet, Smith is rated as one of the men to beat. The field in this event will be the same as in the indoor meet with Hal Sinclair, Jack Trout and Davis being the main entries.

JUMPING GOOD
In the high jump, Smith has done 6 feet 4½ inches, which should be good enough to gain a medal and has been hitting close to 24 feet in the broad jump.

Bill Rhyne, who has been hot on Smith's heels, is entered in the novice 100 yard dash which he stands a good chance of taking and will also run the 440 yard lap of the medley relay.

MEDLEY RELAY
The medley relay team with the exception of Rhyne is composed of freshmen who will be competing against the varsity teams of the universities. Taking the baton from Rhyne, Thelmo Knowles will go 880 yards, Guido Teresi has the 1320 yard third lap, and Bob Ingram, the anchor man, must run a mile.

Elwood Clark, national junior college javelin champion, is making his first appearance of the year, being held out of earlier competition by a leg injury received during basketball season. Clark has been rounding into shape and will possibly be good for 180 feet or better in his event.

HOSTESSES NEEDED FOR SOLDIER DANCE

Hostesses are needed for the service men's dance in the Women's gym Sunday afternoon, according to Marjorie Easton, chairman of the Service Men's Welfare committee.

Dancing will be from 2 to 5 o'clock with music "off the record."

All service men stationed in San Jose and those from Moffett Field will be welcome, according to Miss Easton.

"These dances provide an opportunity for college women to demonstrate their patriotism," Miss Easton declared. "Showing the service men a good time is of exceptional importance to their morale."

TICKETS ON SALE FOR "Y" DANCE; SOLDIERS HONORED

Service men will be honored at an Easter dinner dance Friday night in the Student Center.

Sponsored by the college YWCA, the tickets are 50 cents and the dinner is scheduled for 6:30.

Women wishing to purchase tickets for the affair should do so immediately. They may be procured from Helen York or at the Student Center.

This will be the last of the Friday night dances held at the Student Center this quarter. All women students are invited.

MARCH 18 CHOSEN FOR FROSH DANCE

March 18 has been set as the date for the Freshman class informal dance, Hank Imsen, class president, announced.

The dance, under the direction of Mary Stowe, committee chairman, will probably be held at the Ste. Claire hotel. This is not definite, however. The class council will meet today to decide on a theme for the dance.

It has been decided to hold the dance within the city limits of San Jose to conserve tires, Imsen said. Also blackout dangers and the wish of the Army for traffic to keep off the highways as much as possible, have forced them to hold the affair in San Jose, Imsen added.

CONSTITUTION PUT TO VOTE

Freshman class council will present the class constitution to all interested class members for a vote on its adoption today.

A committee of class president Hank Imsen, vice-president Bob Mendenhall and secretary-treasurer Kay Welschmeyer has formulated the constitution at the request of many of the freshman students.

The meeting will be held at 5 p.m. in room 24. All freshmen are welcome.

DEBATE SQUAD TO MEET TOMORROW

The regular meeting of the Forensic squads will be held tomorrow night at the home of Miss Lucie Lawson, debate coach, announces Henry Leland, debate manager.

The meeting is a postponement of the usual Tuesday night meeting in the Student Union. Instead of formal discussion of a subject, a general open discussion will be held.

LIBRARY PLANNED AS AIR RAID CENTER

Because nearly half of the student body would be evacuated to the library in case of an air raid, it has been decided to place a first aid station in the building to apply first aid to wounded and injured students, Miss Joyce Backus, librarian, announces.

In case of an air alarm, a doctor and a nurse would be rushed to the library immediately to administer aid. First aid equipment will be placed in the staff room as soon as it is ready.

Junior Council: Important meeting today in the Student Union at 4 o'clock. All members urged to attend.—Francis Stoffels.

New Trigonometry Course Offered

Modern navigation of planes and ships requires a knowledge of spherical trigonometry, and as this knowledge also is valuable to students entering the Army Air Corps, a course in spherical trigonometry will be given at San Jose State spring quarter in place of Defense Mathematics as shown in the spring schedule of programs.

This is the latest addition to the entrance requirements of the Naval Reserve classes V-1, V-5, and V-7. It will be included in the year of college mathematics required for admittance to these three classes in the Naval Reserve.

Students will register for this course under Math. 13, Spherical Trigonometry, 9:00 o'clock, MWF, 3 units. Dr. W. H. Myers will be the instructor and the only prerequisite is plane trigonometry.

or for special training only when called.

San Jose State has now about a thousand men in the armed forces. We are doing our full part, and a good deal more, so when we send a track team or a boxing team or swimmers or wrestlers into competition this spring, it will not be with any apology, for we are not holding out on the war effort.

I feel very happy over the spirit we have shown. When the final record is made up, I am sure San Jose State will be there with the best of them. Our first job is war, our second job is education, but a good, reasonable balance is the ideal.

Chief Specialist Rating Offered To College Grads

All men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are well-qualified athletes with college degrees can now apply for the rating of chief specialist in the Navy's physical training program, according to word received from the Twelfth Naval District officers.

Applicants will be interviewed at the Navy Recruiting station in San Francisco by a representative of Commander Gene Tunney March 23 and 24, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Applicants must have in their possession at time of appearance a transcript of their college record, a birth certificate, a discharge if they have had any previous military service and a small picture taken within the last week.

All those accepted will be sent to the Naval Training station, Norfolk, Virginia, for a six weeks' course in naval indoctrination and methods of training. After the training those who pass approval are to be assigned to various naval activities as physical trainers.

SENIOR COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

The senior class council will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Secretary Dorothy Jones, 140 South Fourteenth street.

The Sneak Week - Senior Week committee composed of Ruth Wool, Les Bermeister and Margaret Moore will report on plans for the annual affair.

SPARDI GRAS COMMITTEE MEETS IN STUDENT UNION AT 4 O'CLOCK TODAY TO DISCUSS INITIAL PLANS

Initial plans for Spardi Gras, annual spring carnival for May 1, will get under way today at 4 o'clock when the Spardi Gras committee, headed by Chairman Denny Morrissey, meets in the Student Union.

The colorful spring carnival officially opens at the stroke of 12 o'clock May 1, according to committee members.

Book Exchange Opens Next Week For Student Use

The Student Book Exchange will be opened a week from today at 1 o'clock and will serve students Thursday and Friday also.

The Exchange, a non-profit organization, aids students in disposing of used textbooks at a profit. It will be open all day Thursday and from 9 until 12 o'clock Friday.

Students may place their used textbooks with the exchange and upon their sale will receive a higher profit than from sale in any other channel, according to Rex Gardiner, chairman.

Textbooks to be used next quarter are being compiled into a file by members of the faculty. This file will enable students to know what books will be prerequisite for their courses in spring quarter and put an end to last minute rush for books, Marie Hayes, chairman of the operations committee, said. Books will be listed according to editions.

top sprinters for the Bears. Hill and Lippi will probably enter the 50 and 100 while McCarthy will anchor both relay teams. Sheeran makes up the fourth man for the freestyle relay.

Elwood Covey and Rene Prestwood are the top divers for the Bears. Johnny Norris will battle Roger Frelie in the 200 yard breaststroke with Frelie given an even chance for victory for the Spartans.

Traditional as Spardi Gras itself is the choosing of a co-ed popular vote to rule with her court over the day's activities. Helen Booth was named last year over a field of 12 candidates.

CROSBY SELECTS

The previous year, pictures of candidates were sent to movie actor Bing Crosby who selected Margaret Hull to reign over the festivities.

Spardi Gras, originated in 1922 when Jim Chestnutt, then editor of the yearbook, decided that La Torre should have a larger section with pictures of student activities. To carry out this idea he suggested that a "bum's day" be held and that all students come to college in costumes that day.

BUM'S DAY

The first "bum's day" proved so successful that the following year a whole week was set aside for frolic and fun. The entire week of reveling proved to be too much for the faculty who proclaimed that the "bum's day" be restricted to one day in the future.

Spardi Gras, which is the present name given to "bum's day," now includes an afternoon of games, dancing, concessions sponsored by campus organizations and contests. The quad takes on the appearance of carnival, complete with side shows and barker.

BEAN FEED

Traditional with Spardi Gras is the "bean feed," or 5 o'clock supper, which follows the contest usually held on the San Carlos turf.

Students working on plans for this year's carnival, as appointed by Morrissey, include Tom Taylor, Marty Taylor, Charles Brown, Margaret Schrader, Ruth W. Jack Hume, Gerry Averitt, A. Guetling and Assistant Chairman Orlyn Gire.
